THE CHÂTEAU LIFE

PALAIS DES THÉS

Not your average herbal tea. The L'Herboriste collection from Palais des Thés is a line of 100% organic infusions (identified by creation number) that mix beneficial herbs with the delicate flavors of fruits and spices. L'Herboriste N°74, a blend of lime flower, chamomile and orange blossom, is a cup of calm. Sit back and sip your way to relaxation.

LA SAMARITAINE REOPENS

After a 15-year renovation, La Samaritaine department store is set to reopen in April. Built in 1870, its Art Nouveau frescoes, glass roof, and restored staircase are a wonderful backdrop to over 600 fashion, lifestyle and food brands.

QUOI DE
neuf?*

What caught our eye this month

* What's New!

BRASSERIE ROSIE

A new brasserie in Paris with a modern twist. Brasserie Rosie opened its doors in January, promising the soul of a classic French brasserie with trendy crockery and a multi-generational crowd. On the seasonal menu you'll find a mix of traditional and more daring European dishes, think fried mussels, grilled squid and fresh vegetable carpaccio. Add it to your list!

LE COUCOU

Nestled into a mountainside of Méribel ski resort lies new 5-star hotel Le Coucou. This ski in/ski out hotel boasts two gourmet restaurants, a decked-out bar and a beautiful wellness spa. Le Coucou has the allure of a traditional chalet with all the luxuries needed for an elegant vacation. Opt for one of the beautiful rooms or suites, or treat yourself to a private cottage.

DIPTYQUE'S EAU CAPITAL

In homage to the capital, luxury Parisian parfumeur Diptyque releases Eau Capital: a base of chypre with notes of rose, fresh bergamot, patchouli and pink peppercorn. As much of a treat for the eyes as it is for the nose, the bottle's illustration - inspired by iconic Art Nouveau architecture - features the Eiffel Tower, roses, peacocks and flowing calligraphy.

NV GALLERY

Lovers of gorgeous homeware, rejoice. Previously only available online, chic homeware brand NV Gallery recently unveiled their new two-floor showroom in Paris. The aesthetic? Clean lines, dark wood, gold finishings and colored velvets. After a wander through each breathtaking room (structurally designed with elements of typical Parisian apartments), end with a treat at the vegan Café Maisie on the top floor.
